The New Commissioner Coldly Reesived at Police Headquarters.

Mr. Murray was shown through the building by Wanmaker, who introduced him to inspectors Conlin and Mc-Awoy.

Fresident Martin arrived about five minutes after the rew appointee and accidentally met him at the entrance to the Police Board room.

There was a noticeable absence of warmth and heartiness in the handshake that followed, and the meeting was as coldly formal upon the part of Commissioner Martin as pique and disappointment could possibly make it obligatory upon him, no doubt, to introduce the new member of the Board to the Superintendent, who up to this time had not received a call from the visiting party.

The three Commissioners and Supt. Byrnes held a short conference in Commissioner Murray's room, after which Mr. MacLean took his departure. The regular meeting of the Board will take place this afternoon, when Mr. Murray will be initiated into the methods and practices of his new position.

Commissioner Murray received to-day about fifty congratulatory letters from prominent Republicans and some Democrats, among whom it is said there was a letter from Richard Croker. He also received a large floral horseshoe from the Lincoln League of the Third Assembly District.

They refused to say any more about the case than that they had thought that Edwards, who works in Harford's restaurant, Prospect street, near Fulton street, Brooklyn, was the "pal" of a man whom they were looking for. They would not say who the man was for whom they were looking, nor with what crime he was charged. They denied, however, that it had anything to do with the diamond theft at 224 East Fifteenth street, May 10 last.

TRAPPED A PICKPOCKET.

Charter Lost $2, and Had the Thie Arrested.

William Lynch, thirty-seven years old. of 37 West Houston street, stopped William Charter, of 175 Allen street, on the Bowery last night and asked for a light from the latter's cigar. Charter granted the favor, and Lynch also helped himself to a $2 bill from Charter's vest-pocket.
Charter says he felt Lynch's hand in his pocket, but said nothing about it.
He invited Lynch to share his umbrella with him, as it was raining at the time.
The men walked until they met a policeman, and then Charter caused Lynch's arrest.

"Why, my good fellow," exclaimed Lynch when Charter accused him of picking his pocket, "I was only fooling with you. Here is your money," and he handed back the $2 bill.

In Essex Market Court to-day Justice Hogan held Lynch for trial.

existence of a "Big Four," or any man or set of men who are consulted in regard to appointments or the policy of Tammany Hall under the present regime.

Ex-Mayor Grant's opinion was not asked. The first Richard Croker knew of the new Police Commissioner was when he read about him in the newspapers, and the Mayor never dreamed of taking Police Commissioner James J. Martin into his confidence.

Martin into his confidence.

Martin was more than ignored. He was "turned down." All his hopes and expectation of future greatness were wiped out by the action of Mayor Gliroy. He not only expected to have a voice in the selection of his new colleague, but he wanted to insure his continuance in public office for another six years, and the new Commissioner for his unexpired term of two years only.

In political circles the episode is construed in this way. The Mayor wanted it plainly understood that there is no Grant-Martin faction. He only recognised one faction, that was the entire Tammahy Hall organization, and he was the master of it. Mayor Gliroy did not even deign to tell Martin that he would make the appointment yesterday. Martin unexpectedly walked into the Mayor's office after Murray had been sworn in, and the Mayor merely said to him:

"Commissioner, let me introduce you now colleague."

The first case was that of La Champane. The other was that of the ferry-boat West Brooklyn, which grounded to him:

Their selection and the artistic conscientiousness with which they are presented reflect much credit on Mr. Oscar Hammerstein, who put them on the stage. Wood and Shepherd, musical comedians; Calcedo, king of the wire; Charles Wayne, eccentric comedian; the Zanetto juggirse, little Carisen, the living caricature; Adrienne Larive, chanteuse; Leslie's trained dogs, and Lalo, electric female bicyclist, are in the vaudeville programme.

Sampson, the strong man, the most formidable rival that Sandow has ever had, was the star attraction at Huber's vesterday. Sampson's exhibition of heavy weight lifting and breaking chains with the naked hands are without a doubt better than the blond athlete. Weiton's cat circus, Prof. Frank's broom factory, and a good bill in the theatre are the other attractions. EDEN MUSEE

EDEN MUSEE.

Eden Musee was well patronized last evening, and the entertainment was unusually good. Quatrelle, the juggler, made his first appearance, and his difficult feats were interesting and well executed. Yberri introduced the Mantille dance and added one more to the scores of fantasies she has created. Tortajada and her Spanish Troubadours in "The Bull Fight" received a full share of approval.

Entries for the New Jersey A. C. games close to-day, but enough have been received to make it highly probable that this Memorial Day meeting will be the most noteworthy of the Spring season of the Metropolitan Association. Quite a boom is on in college athletics, for the colleges have filed as many entries, if not more, than the clubs. Yale, Harvard and Pennsylvania will file the names of the men who will compete in the team race, which will easily be the best event of its kind ever winessed in this section of the courtry. The three colleges named will be well represented in the field and track events. Cornell will send a team, se will Princeton, while efforts are making to have Columbia send a few entries. An important change, and one which will meet the approval of all lovers of lacrosse, is the substitution of the Crescent Athletic Club lacrosse team for the one representing the College of the City of New York. The Crescents will meet the Stevens' Institute players, who do not play a very gentle game.

The University of Pennsylvania students, who are nothing if not modest, do not figure on getting any better than first in the Intercollegiate games next Saturday. BASEBALL CHAT. Motz, Connie Murphy and Cross have been released to Indianapolis by the Cincinnati Club.

Dave Foutz refers to the New Yorks as the "sure things" and the "hard lucks." Dave might show better taste if he would give more attention to managing his own team and less in sarcastic references to the New Yorks. Stenzel, the player whom the Pittsburgs were so anxious to match against Van Haltren in an all-around competition, is booked for his release by the Pirates. A Boston enthusiast, writing to The Herald, of that city, says; "A player who kicks the ball into right he because the umpire tan't looking shows that, howeve" wide awake he may be, he hasn't the faintest regard for fairness in play, and he would, of course, do anything short of absolute crime to win a game." This is a deserved "shot" at Tommy McCarthy's so-called "brainy" tactics.

Here is how a facetious spectator figures Ed Kearney the best three-year-old yet shown: Hornpipe beat Dobbins, Don Alonzo beat Hornpipe and Henry of Navarre. Ed Kearney beat Don Alonzo, and is, therefore, the king-pin of all. How this figuring will do to bet on when Ed Kearney runs up against Dobbins or Henry of Navarre, is another story.
